U.S. Dist. Ct
 Action No. 21-cv-5251(USB)
 5/17/2022
 Warren M. Giddings

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Warren Mathew Giddings,

Plaintiff,

v.

Civil Action No. 21-cv-5251(USB)

Oanda Corp., et al.,

Defendants.

RECEIVED
 SDNY PRO SE OFFICE
 2022 MAY 23 PM 2:41

MOTION FOR APPROPRIATE RELIEF.

- 1) At this time, I am seeking Court to Order appropriate relief, as it sees fit to do, regarding its Order to me to provide the requested information on or before 6/1/2022.
- 2) Although, as apparent in my filings, I have, in the past, received many addresses directly from the Oanda.com site for addresses that it has held out as their office locations (See my filings for these addresses) over the years, at this time, at the prison I was transferred to in Dec., 2021, MCL-HI, the librarian is refusing to provide me any addresses listed for "Oanda." (See attached proof).
- 3) I can, at this time, either pay "EPS" (Elite Paralegal Prisoner Services) to find this information for me with a "deep dive" search of "Oanda" and all things related, but EPS is located in the "mid-west"; they usually take 1-2 months to fulfill my orders, and Court's June 1 deadline is approx. 30 weeks away. → BACK of Page →

U.S. Dist. Ct.
Action No. 21-cv-5251 (USB)
5/17/2022

- 4) I can also request that my case manager do an internet search on "Oanda" known addresses, but this search will be way less thorough than if done by the librarian or EPS, and it is also guaranteed to take a few weeks, and again, Court's deadline is fast approaching. —

CONCLUSION:

Based on these facts, I humbly pray Court Order relief to me, as it determines is appropriate, based on these facts, timelines, and the circumstances. ~~and~~

Respectfully submitted:

Warren Mathew Giddings
5/17/2022

Application denied as moot. I have already ordered service upon Oanda at a new address. (Doc. 91.) The Clerk of Court is respectfully directed to terminate the motion at Doc. 93 and mail a copy of this order to pro se Plaintiff.

SO ORDERED:

URGENT addition to last week's pending requests (Library)

Mr. Shaffer,

Here are my library requests for this week:

1) Internet Search: for "what does Washington D.C. law say about what 'negligence' is in a civil lawsuit?" "as well as what they say about the "maximum amount of 'damages' that can be awarded in a negligence lawsuit under Washington D.C. (state) law." — ALL info on this from all sources on Google. (Please print out multiple articles on this all; I am preparing to file a "Motion of Opposition" in ~~the~~ federal court and I need tons of info ~~on~~ on all of this. Thank you.)

2) Please send me the other requests I requested from last week. Those are super important.

U.S. Dist. Ct.
Action No. 21-cv-5251 (US)
Warren M. Eddings 5/27/2022

3) Lastly, on Friday, the Court sent me an Order requesting I provide information they can give the U.S. Marshalls Service to serve "Oanda Corp." in my lawsuit. Apparently the address on their website is a false address. Therefore, please provide me the following on Oanda Corp. (Oanda.com) (forex trading broker):

- a) ALL possible addresses, world-wide, for "Oanda Corp. their 'holding companies,' international/national office address etc. (Anything about any and all physical locations for their employees/executives/offices/owners/etc.), and
- b) the address "Oanda" used to "incorporate" in the U.S. or international, the address of any "registered agent" they use to receive "service of process" of a lawsuit on their behalf; and

Thank you a lot

District of Columbia Negligence Laws

Created by FindLaw's team of legal writers and editors | Last updated June 07, 2019

<https://www.findlaw.com/state/dc-law/district-of-columbia-negligence-laws.html>

The vast majority of injury cases are based on the legal theory of negligence. An individual who fails to act in a reasonable manner -- they knew or should have known better -- and as a result causes an injury to another may be found negligent. When a court rules that the defendant is negligent, they're held liable for damages related to the injury. For instance, a distracted driver who crashes into another motorist, causing injury, may be held liable for hospital bills, lost wages, damage to their vehicle, and other losses stemming from the negligent act.

In the District of Columbia, plaintiffs may not be able to collect for damages if they only shared a small amount of fault for the accident. The following sections summarize negligence laws and procedures in Washington, D.C., including details about contributory negligence and links to code sections.

District of Columbia Negligence Laws at a Glance

If you've been injured and believe someone else was at fault, the last thing you have time for is deciphering complex statutory language. Information on how the District of Columbia handles negligence claims is listed in the following chart, written in "plain English" for your convenience.

Statute	District of Columbia Code, Section 35-302
Comparative Negligence	-
Contributory Negligence: Limit to Plaintiff's Recovery	Pure Contributory Negligence: A plaintiff's negligence (even as little as 1%) is a bar to recovery except the liability of common carriers for injuries to employees, when plaintiff's negligence is slight and employer's is gross.
Contribution Among Tortfeasors	No
Uniform Act	-

Note: State laws are always subject to change through the passage of new legislation, rulings in the higher courts (including federal decisions), ballot initiatives, and other means. While we strive to provide the most current information available, please consult an attorney or conduct your own legal research to verify the state law(s) you are researching.

Elements of a Negligence Case

A plaintiff must be able to prove the following five elements in order to collect damages for injuries resulting from the defendant's negligence:

1. Defendant owed a duty to commit an act or refrain from committing an act;
2. Defendant breached this duty;
3. This breach of duty caused injury to the plaintiff;
4. Defendant's actions (or inactions) were the proximate cause of the injury (the defendant should have known that this action could have caused injuries); and
5. Plaintiff suffered actual damages (i.e., lost wages, hospital bills, suffering, etc.).

District of Columbia Code Division V. Local Business Affairs § 35-302. Contributory negligence no bar to recovery.

Current as of January 01, 2020 | Updated by FindLaw Staff

In all actions brought against any common carriers to recover damages for personal injuries to an employee, or where such injuries have resulted in his death, the fact that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence shall not bar a recovery where his contributed negligence was slight and that of the employer was gross in comparison, but the damages shall be diminished by the jury in proportion to the amount of negligence attributable to such employee. All questions of negligence and contributory negligence shall be for the jury.
